MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

All the articles submitted to Huarte de San Juan. Filología y Didáctica de la Lengua to be considered for publication must be original and unpublished, and should be sent through the Submissions button of the platform.

Sending an original work entails the acceptance of the publication guidelines. The editorial board of the journal will carry out a first evaluation of all the papers submitted, which will be sent for peer-review if considered appropriate.

1.- Presentation of articles
- The articles should be written in Times New Roman, size 12 and anonymized
- A separate document should be provided indicating the author's personal data: name and one or two surnames, university or institution affiliation, the email of corresponding author and the ORCID identifier.
- The length of the article should be between 6,000 and 9,000 words.
- On the first page, the author will include the tittle, an abstract with a maximum of 150 words, and 5 key words. All of them should be in Spanish and English.
- The abstract should describe the objective of the article, the method, results and conclusions. That order should be also kept when writing the article

2.- Style Standards
The Editors reserve the rights to introduce style corrections in the texts to adequate them to its style standards and to the general character of the journal. In case of disagreement with the author, the criteria of the editors will prevail

- Format of the articles
The latest version of APA style should be followed for structure, organization, seriation, charts, figures and references. Images should be sent in a different electronic file in TIFF or JPF formats, with a 300 pp resolution. The maps and graphics should be in vectorial format so that they can be edited without any decrease in quality.

- Structure of the articles
The text should be divided in a reasonable number of sections, leaving a blank line before and after each tittle. Arabic number should be used for headings.

- Quotations
Short quotations (up to three lines) should be written within inverted commas in the body of the text. If the quotations are longer, they should be written in a separate paragraph with indentation and a smaller type size.

- Recommendations

Italics can be used to indicate words written in a different language different, or for emphasis. Neither bold nor underlined words should be used within the body of the text, except in quotations in which case a footnote should be included if it is the author's emphasis

3. Proofs correction

The authors will receive the first proofs to be corrected. Correction should be limited to orthographic or grammatical mistakes. No corrections which alter the typographical adjustment in a significant way will be included. The correction of the second proof will be submitted to the authors so that they confirm the final version.
